Sjogren's World is...

... an internet community built for people who have Sjogren's Syndrome to meet and share their experiences and knowledge in order to improve quality of life and help thwart the loneliness and isolation that often accompanies living with this rare disease.

Sjogren's World offers various ways to meet with others, including E-Pals, discussion forums, and live chats as well as reliable medical articles and links.

On Our Pages:

Sjogren's World was created in 1999 by two women, "Spring" and "Care" who were searching for answers to illnesses and seeking support. Read the history on the About Us web page. There you will also find information regarding all the Sjogren's World Staff.

Read articles and abstracts about the neurological problems associated with Sjögren's Syndrome on our articles page.

We offer live chats in real time with others who have Sjögren's Syndrome. For more information and the link to chat, visit the Chat Information Page where you can choose from several chat times, or sign up for the chat list to receive reminders of upcoming chats (over 250 on this list).

If you are seeking, "someone like you," have general comments and concerns, or are asking for help, try our multiple message boards with over 1,700 registered users and many visitors at the Sjogren's World Community Forum!

Our site list books on Sjögren's and living with Chronic Illness with book reviews for you to read to help you decide if you would like to purchase them.

Find more information on all aspects of Sjögren's Syndrome through informative internet links.

All of us at Sjogren's World Staff look forward to meeting you!
